Bob Braun Show set as grandstand attraction

Antique car show to launch county fair

A show of automobiles, some dating back to the 1890s, will kickoff the 1977 Fayette County Fair as it enters its first day Sunday.

Judging of the antique and classic automobiles will begin at 12 noon at the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Registration is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. There will be 23 classes of competition.

It will be the 18th annual car show sponsored by the Fayette Antique and Classic Car Club.

Club president Rick Martindale reported that the rare and highly-polished automobiles will be at the Fayette County Fairgrounds until 4 p.m. Sunday.

Following the cavalcade of antique autos, the opening fair ceremony will be held in front of the grandstand.

Highlighting the 7 p.m. ceremony will be the crowning of the 1977 Junior Fair queen. Three Fayette County girls, Twila Dennis, Lisa Melvin, and Jo Brown, are in the running for the annual honor.

One of the girls will be crowned after all the votes are counted. Only youths holding Junior Fair exhibitors passes will be eligible to vote.

The first day's festivities will be topped off by the Bob Braun Show.

Braun, a popular and talented Cincinnati television personality, packed the Fayette County Fairgrounds grandstand three years ago and large crowd is expected by fair officials this year.

Featured with Braun in the 7:30 p.m. show will be the Cliff Lash Orchestra and singers Colleen Sharp, Rob Reider, Gwen Conley and Bonnie Lou.

Tickets for the show can be purchased at the grandstand office. The prices are $1.50 for general admission, $2 for reserved seats, and $2.50 for box seats.

Braun's performance will kickoff seven nights of grandstand entertainment at this year's fair.

Monday night the fair's popular harness horse races will be circling the fairground's one-half mile track. Races are also scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday.

There will be no admission charged again this year for the races which are offering $25,000 in purses. There will be pari-mutuel betting each night. Races begin at 7:30 p.m.

On Thursday, the roar of powerful tractors will flood the Fairgrounds track with the holding of the annual tractor pull competition.

There will be four classes of competition to delight the tractor pull enthusiasts this year. Admission to the grandstand for the 6:30 p.m. action is $3.

Friday and Saturday the final nights of the fair, are reserved for the annual auto demolition derbies.

The drivers of the battered automobiles will start their engines at 7:30 p.m. each night. Grandstand admission will be $2.

Besides the nightly grandstand activities, fairgoers can explore the midway and check out the various exhibits and rides from the Gooding Amusement Co.

Junior Fair activities and judging will be held each day during fair week.

Nine dead in Connecticut

Suspect being held in 'worst' homicide

PROSPECT, Conn. (AP) — A 27-year-old Waterbury man was charged today with killing his foster brother's wife, seven children and a cousin whose bodies were found in their burned home in this central Connecticut community.

Lorne J. Acquin was held on $250,000 bond at the state jail in New Haven pending arraignment on nine counts of murder, authorities said.

Acquin was charged with the death of Cheryl Beaudoin, her seven children, who ranged in age from 4 to 12, and a 6-year-old cousin, who was staying overnight at their home.

Acquin had lived with the Frederick Beaudoin family off and on for several years in the basement of their home and was a childhood companion of Beaudoin, having been raised by his father.

Resident State Trooper William

McCasland said that Acquin had a record of robbery and burglary arrests.

The bodies were found inside the house following the early Friday morning blaze.

Authorities said the fire apparently had been set and some of the children had been bound, gagged and beaten.

Officials called it the "worst mass homicide" in Connecticut's history.

"We have nine people here who were murdered and burned," said State Police Commissioner Edward P. Leonard.

Beaudoin, who told police he had been at work about 10 miles away in a North Haven factory on the midnight-to-7 a.m. shift who had one thing to live for — "to see the bastard pay."

Puffy-eyed and unshaven, Beaudoin, 29, dabbed the tears from his eyes as he sat with his parents Friday night, trying to comprehend the day's events.

BARN'S RUINS — A two-story barn on Robinson Road, located is owned by Willis and Dwight Coffman of near the Bogus Road intersection, was completely destroyed by fire Friday. The farm on which the barn was Washington C.H.

Damage estimated at over $40,000

Livestock killed in barn fire

Fire swept through a two-story barn on Robinson Road in Wayne Township Friday morning killing nearly 300 pigs and totally destroying the building according to Wayne Township Fire Chief Pearl Breakfield.

Only one pig escaped the blaze at 4484 Robinson Road, which caused an estimated $40,000 to $50,000 damage, Breakfield said. Approximately 36 sows and their litters were lost along with about 2,500 bales of straw.

Washington C.H. firemen assisted Wayne Township fire-fighters and reported the fire started around 10:50 a.m. Friday. The barn was being painted at the time and the painters were in the barn mow when the fire ignited. Breakfield said farm hands told him the fire probably started by a cigarette, but added he doesn't really know what sparked it.

The farm where the barn was located is owned by Willis and Dwight Coffman of Washington C.H., and operated by Glen Davis, 4663 Robinson Road. A Fayette County Sheriff's Department report stated a hired hand of Davis' saw the fire in the barn and told firemen it started in the center portion of the hay mow. The hand, after seeing the fire, was reportedly only able to move a pick-up truck parked nearby before the barn became completely engulfed in flames. No injuries were reported.

Washington C.H. firemen also reported a backfire through the carburetor of a van ignited the motor on fire in the 100 block of E. Market Street Friday afternoon.

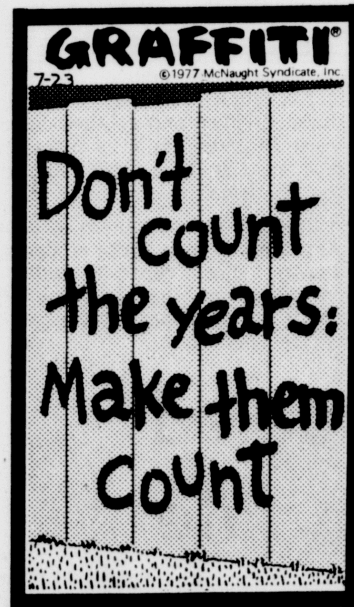

The fire, which began around 1 p.m. caused an estimated $200 damage to the motor, the fire department report stated. The vehicle belongs to Robert P. Thomas, 4127 U.S. 35-NW.

The Washington C.H. Fire Department responded to three other calls Friday.

Firemen were called when the alarm system at the Quiet Acres Nursing Home, 1771 Palmer Road, malfunctioned about 9:10 p.m.

Fire officials reported they were summoned when a 1969 model Buick, belonging to Charles Kniceley of Leesburg, began leaking gasoline in the 100 block of S. Fayette Street around 3 p.m.

Earlier, about 2:10 p.m. firemen repaired an inhalator belonging to Kenneth Bonecutter at 611 Gregg St.

Nearly 1,000 persons served

Ice cream social sets record

A record crowd attended the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club's traditional ice cream social Friday afternoon on the lawn of the Fayette County Courthouse.

The ice cream social is an annual event of the Old Fashioned Bargain Days celebration in Washington C.H. George W. Gibbs, 704 Highland Ave., said "the biggest crowd ever" attended the ice cream social. Nearly 1,000 persons were served.

"We had a steady stream of people from 4 p.m. until closing," said Gibbs, a member of the local Kiwanis Club.

Forty-five Kiwanis Club members and their wives served various types of homemade cake and three flavors of ice cream to hungry shoppers. A total of 75 cakes were sold.

Several other special events were held Friday.

The Kiwanis Club Community Band performed in a one-hour concert on the Courthouse lawn prior to a variety show featuring all local talent.

Nearly 400 persons attended the community band concert and variety show, according to Mrs. Martha Reiff, chairman of the Old Fashioned Bargain Days celebration.

The variety show featured the Court House Company, a local quartet; Nancy Eltzroth, a baton twirler and acrobatic dancer, and Mike McDonald, a dancer and soloist.

Friday's activities were capped by a square dancing exhibition along N. Main Street. A large crowd attended the exhibition which was sponsored by the Tri-County Squares, a local square dancing club.

Bargain hunters swarmed tables at businesses in the downtown area again Saturday morning for the final day of the annual sidewalk sales.

Cash registers were spewing ribbons of tape as fast as the frenzied clerks could punch the keys.

Flood victim clings to Bible

WEST TAYLOR, Pa. (AP) — When they found newlywed Sharon Stoner's body in the flood's mud in nearby Pole Hollow, she had her prayer book in one hand and her wedding picture in the other.

"I watched their car come tumbling end over end down the mountain," Sam Felix, 33, recalled Friday.

"The lights were on and the engine was still running. I was screaming at the people on the bluff to help. But they couldn't hear me because of the thunder."

"They found another body down here, a woman. Her dead child was in one arm and her Bible in the other."

"It's as if God said, 'Okay you people, I'm going to punish you all at once.' And then he gave us hell for everything we'd ever done wrong."

Sam Felix is a pretty woman, married to Terry Felix, 30, a wiry steelworker, and mother of a very pretty 3-year-old girl named Heather Dawn.

Sam spent a good bit of Friday trying to put her life back together.

"I came down here last night and I was maniac. I was suicidal," she said, standing on a ledge overlooking a chasm of dirty brown water that still swirled down Dishonj Mountain.

"I almost jumped in. I was ready to end it all. We're ruined, wiped out. The house, the car, they're gone."

"Heather can't understand. She wants to know where the yard went. She can't understand what happened to Churchill, that's her dog."

"Everything is gone. My husband's coin collection was washed away. We were saving it to send Heather to college."

In the wee hours Wednesday, a mid-summer tempest sat over Pole Hollow and spit its fury.

"The lightning came down in balls and ran up and down the ridge," said Sam. "It was nonstop."

At the top of the mountain, the Laurel Run Reservoir was filling rapidly with rain, exerting a tremendous force against its breast.

At 1 a.m. Mrs. Felix, alone with Heather — her husband was working the overnight shift at a Bethlehem Steel Mill — picked up the phone.

She dialed the man who had named her Sam, her father, John Liebhenguth, of Sacramento, Calif.

"I've always called Daddy when I'm scared. I told him about the rain and the thunder. We kidded each other back and forth. I told him what with the drought he'd probably die of thirst."

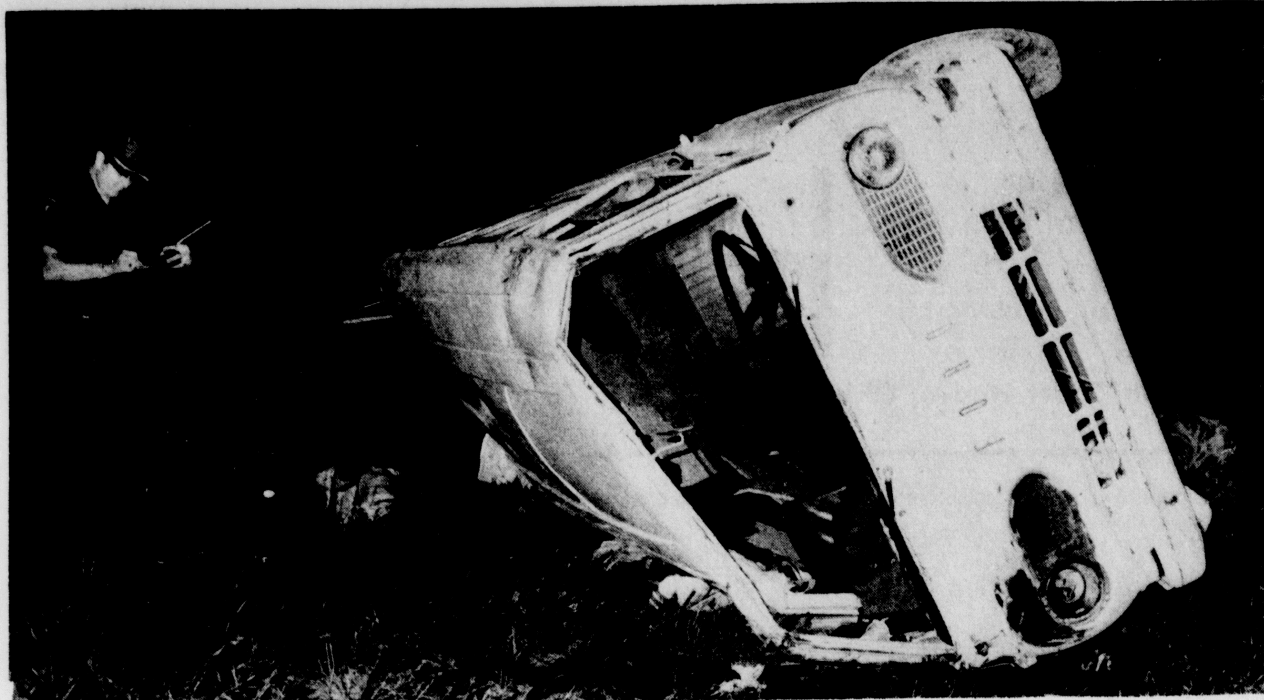

A little over an hour later the dam ruptured, sending 100 million gallons of water in a wave down the mountain.

Sam Felix spent a night of horror in an upstairs bedroom clinging to Heather and screaming, "God, get my daughter out."

She could see people on the bluff with flashlights but they couldn't hear her because of the roar of water that frothed at second-floor windows in the gulch town.

"I watched that wall of water go by and I thought, 'Mother of God, We're going to die,'" she said.

The Felixes made it. But scores of others at Pole Hollow are missing and feared dead. At least 10 homes were washed away.

TWO PASSENGERS HURT — Fayette County Sheriff's Deputy Charles Wise completes a report on an accident in which two Marion men were injured when the van in which they were riding overturned on Ohio 38-N. The driver of the vehicle was injured, but did not seek treatment.

Two men hurt as van overturns

Two Marion men were injured early Saturday morning when the van in which they were riding struck a fence and overturned several times along Ohio 38 at the Matthews Road in Union Township, according to Fayette County sheriff's deputies.

Nineteen-year-old A. Wayne Roberts and Toney G. Risner, 21, both of Marion, were taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital by the Fayette County Life Squad. Roberts suffered lacerations and contusions and Risner fractured his right clavicle in the 12:10 a.m. accident. They were treated and released.

The driver of the van, James L. Roberts, 24, of Richwood, Ohio, was also injured, but was not treated at the time, according to the sheriff's department report.

Sheriff's deputies stated the van was southbound on Ohio 38 when it went 132 feet off the right side of the road, traveled over 180 feet in a ditch, skidded 105 feet back across the road, ran off the left side 120 feet across a lawn and struck three rods of fence. The van turned over several times on impact before coming to rest on its passenger side, the report stated.

Sheriff's deputies cited the driver for reckless operation.

A Washington C.H. youth suffered a nasal fracture and multiple abrasions when he lost control of his pick-up truck and struck a tree along Carr Road about a mile north of Ohio 41-N, sheriff's deputies reported.

Michael J. Dunton, 16, of 2368 Ohio 753, was treated and released from Fayette County Memorial Hospital. Sheriff's deputies stated he drove off the right beam, pulled back onto the road, then lost control traveling off the left side and striking a tree.

Another Washington C.H. resident was slightly injured in a two-car collision at the intersection of W. Court Street and Circle Avenue Friday afternoon, according to Washington C.H. police officers.

Linda G. Lynch, 27, of 717 N. North St., received multiple bruises when another vehicle pulled into her car's path on Court Street from Circle Avenue around 4:52 p.m. The other driver, Terry L. Doyle, 30, of 501 Comfort Lane, also suffered injuries, but was not treated at the time.

Lynch was treated at Fayette County Memorial Hospital and later released. Doyle was cited by police officers for disobeying a traffic device.

In one other accident reported by Washington C.H. police officers, C. Estel Rowe, 81, of 1224 S. Hinde St., claimed injuries, but was not treated at the time, following a three-car crash Friday afternoon at the intersection of E. Temple and Delaware streets.

Rodger D. Seymour, 18, of 940 Gregg St., was cited for failure to yield by police officers after his car struck Mrs. Rowe's causing her vehicle to spin into a third car, driven by Kenny L. Stuckey, 23, of Jeffersonville.

Seymour told the police officers he had stopped on Temple Street and pulled into the intersection not seeing Mrs. Rowe's car approaching north on Delaware Street. Seymour was also cited for violating a restriction of his driver's license. He was not wearing corrective lenses.

Municipal Court

A Harrisburg man, arrested Wednesday on petty theft charges by Fayette County sheriff's deputies, was found guilty in Washington C.H. Municipal Court by Judge John P. Case Friday.

Thirty-five-year-old Norman T. (Tom) McNeal of Harrisburg received a 30-day suspended sentence and was fined court costs. Judge Case suspended the sentence because McNeal stated in court he was going to attend an alcoholic treatment course at St. Anthony's Hospital in Columbus. The judge made his attendance a condition of the suspension adding that the man also not violate any laws for one year.

McNeal's arrest came in connection with the theft of a garden tiller July 12. In a case heard Wednesday, a Fayette County man, William L. Davis, was found guilty of criminal damaging, fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 20 days in the Fayette County jail by Judge Case.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies arrested Davis after a July 9 incident in which he took a Washington C.H. resident's car without permission. Judge Case suspended 10 days of the jail term pending one year good behavior.

Teacher association blasts Rhodes veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Education Association accused Gov. James A. Rhodes Friday of vetoing a teacher security and evaluation bill because of personal vindictiveness toward the teachers lobby.

"In vetoing the bill," the OEA said in a statement, "Gov. Rhodes permitted his personal feelings concerning a private organization to override the need for a law that will require correction of teaching deficiencies while protecting good teachers."

Rhodes did not mention the OEA by name in his veto message Thursday, but called the bill, "another attempt by the leadership of a state teachers' association to wrest control of elementary and secondary education" from the public and school boards.

He vetoed a similar bill in 1976 and has long been at odds with the powerful lobby, which represents more than 80,000 public school teachers.

The OEA statement said Rhodes had identified only two specific reasons for the veto and it attempted to refute both.

"The governor's attack on having a third-party referee determine whether a school board is correct in dismissing a teacher completely ignores the fundamental constitutional right of any citizen to have an objective third party make the final decision on whether the person is to lose property."

"In this case," the OEA said, "the property is the teacher's contract."

Rhodes charge that systematic evaluation of a teacher by local school officials would be too costly was called "baseless."

Mass murder

He wasn't at his charred house when his family's bodies were carried out in plastic bags.

A state trooper had taken him from his job back to his parents' house in Prospect, where he talked with a reporter. He said he wasn't told immediately that his wife and children were murdered.

Beaudoin said at one point he had nothing to live for. Then he added, "There's only one thing — to see the bastard pay."

"He's in a state of shock," said his mother, Marion Beaudoin. She said the police told the family little about the investigation.

"We are suspecting arson," said state police spokesman Harry Boardsen. "Some firemen found some of the children bound, so we're considering it a murder," Boardsen said.

Dr. Elliot Gross, chief state medical examiner, said evidence showed that some of the children had head injuries. He said the official cause of death would not be announced until autopsies were performed today.

Police said there were no indications Mrs. Beaudoin had been shot, as was reported earlier.

"What could they possibly have done to deserve this?" asked neighbor Joseph Paulino as he gazed at the blackened ruins of the modest, six-room, one-story house, where the Beaudoins had lived for nine years. Paulino discovered the fire about 4 a.m. Friday after his wife was awakened by smoke and he went across the street to the Beaudoin home.

"I opened the back door and got driven back by a blast of heat," Paulino said. "Then the picture window blew out."

Firemen from this rural central Connecticut town fought the fire for about 10 minutes before they could get inside.

The bodies were carried from the home Friday afternoon, 10 hours after the blaze. Authorities delayed removal of the victims because of their investigation inside the house. Cartons of rubble taken from the home were taken to three mobile laboratories used at the scene of major crimes.

The victims were identified as Cheryl Beaudoin, about 29, Fred Jr., 12, Sharon, 10, Debbie, 9, Paul, 8, Rod, 6, Hilly, 5, Mary Lou, 4, and their cousin, Jennifer Santoro, 6, of Waterbury, who was staying for the night.

"They were polite, they weren't destructive," Mrs. Paulino said of the Beaudoin children. They would come to her house and ask, "Mrs. Paulino, is it all right if we take some hickory nuts from the yard?"

Beaudoin often worked around the house and repaired cars in the yard. The house, in a quiet, middle-class neighborhood, is surrounded by shrub-like fir trees next to the sidewalk.

"You'd have to go a long way to find a neighborhood better than this," said Wilfred Pouliot, another neighbor.

Egypt withdraws troops from Libya

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt says its forces have pulled out of Libya after its warplanes, giving Col. Moammar Khadafy "a lesson he will never forget," bombed and badly damaged a Libyan air base. But a Libyan broadcast indicated Egypt had launched a major armored drive in Libya.

The conflicting claims left uncertain whether this week's border hostilities between the feuding Arab neighbors continued today.

The Libyans on Friday also claimed to have shot down a pilotless U.S. reconnaissance plane July 6 over the embattled desert border region. They said the plane had taken off from a U.S. 6th Fleet aircraft carrier near Egyptian waters, but they gave no other details.

In a nationally televised speech Friday night, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said there were no longer any Egyptian forces in Libyan territory.

"But this does not mean that he (Libyan leader Khadafy) can resume games. By God, if he resumes, we resume. Let it be clear," Sadat declared. His audience, 1,000 delegates to a conference of local government officials, applauded wildly.

Sadat said that after border provocations this week he could no longer restrain the Egyptian armed forces — "They have given him a lesson he will never forget."

He again accused Khadafy of being a tool of Soviet ambitions in Africa and of "intentionally destroying" Arab unity.

Other Arab leaders were trying desperately to cool the dispute, which has led to four days of reported fighting along the border this week and threatens to widen the rift between moderate and radical Arab states.

Since the 1973 Arab-Israeli war, Khadafy and Sadat have quarreled over Egyptian willingness to establish a lasting peace with Israel. Sadat has accused Khadafy of instigating sabotage and antigovernment plots in Egypt.

After a major armor and air clash at the border Thursday, Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) chief Yasser Arafat and officials of the Arab League began mediation efforts. Arafat was shuttling between Cairo and the Libyan capital of Tripoli.

The Libyan broadcast said the Khadafy regime had accepted Arafat's mediation Friday and relaxed its air defenses, believing military operations were over, but "the Egyptians exploited the issue."

It said Egyptian warplanes attacked the Al Adam air base south of Tobruk, paratroop "shock forces" raided a Libyan village and the Egyptians were waging a major armored offensive on Libyan territory.

ground even as Portage County Common Pleas Court Judge Joseph Kainrad was hearing closing arguments on the controversy in Ravenna.

Last week, Kainrad banned persons from the area while he determined whether construction should begin. His decision is expected early next week.

The demonstrators who risked arrest rushed into the same area where on July 12 a total of 193 persons were arrested peacefully by unarmed campus police after the university had gone to court to force their eviction.

Last week the demonstrators had to be untangled and dragged away from Blanket Hill. This time about 10 policemen stood behind the roped-off area as demonstrators walked in, taking courage from each other and multiplying their number.

Robert Malone, Kent State security director, said he didn't see the need to make arrests Friday unless the protestors permanently occupied the hill.

Judge saddled with gym fate

KENT, Ohio (AP) — It's now up to a county judge to decide if bulldozers will tear up a Kent State University hillside which has been described to him both as a piece of real estate belonging to the school and as hallowed ground belonging to the nation's history.

As if to underscore the passions aroused by the gym's location—which borders the site of the 1970 Kent State shootings—about 150 persons risked arrest Friday by briefly occupying that

Bargain Days

Saturday morning, like Friday, was not a good day to be in a hurry. Passage along sidewalks required well-calculated maneuvers which were occasionally interrupted by the quick movements of a customer who had spotted just what he or she had been looking for.

In addition to the sidewalk sales, today's activities were scheduled to include an art show and sale on the Couthouse lawn, a book fair sponsored by the American Association of University Women and performances by the First Presbyterian Church bell choir and the jazz ensemble from Washington Senior High School.

Opinion And Comment

No Alaska oil to Japan

One of the arguments made against the Alaska pipeline years ago was that when it was completed there would be no immediate West Coast market for much of its oil. What the oil companies really intended, we were told, was to ship large quantities of this oil across the Pacific to Japan.

This, it turns out, was not a mere bugaboo conjured up by opponents of the pipeline. Proposals to ship "surplus" oil to Japan were in fact made, the idea being that in turn Japan would buy oil from the Middle East and ship it to Eastern and Gulf Coast ports.

There is something about this that does not seem quite right, or even very sensible — for a nation concerned about a coming oil shortage to export the stuff and import more from abroad. To do this would have given many people the erroneous impression that the energy crisis was contrived.

We therefore applaud White House rejection of proposals to ship Alaskan oil to Japan. Among other things this should stimulate the building of pipelines to facilitate use of that oil in the Midwest where it is needed.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

SUNDAY, JULY 24

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Your intuition and self-reliance stimulated now. And both will be needed if you are to solve some possible "tricky" situations. Don't become anxious, however.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Stellar aspects indicate a day of successful moves and plans, but all will require know-how, diligence and painstaking care. Don't launch into uncharted seas.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Mixed influences. Day calls for your stamina, stick-to-itiveness, good will and ability to help yourself and others out of undesirable situations.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
No matter what changes are made in your routine, even in your environment, you can make quick adjustments, should get along well and even make notable improvements.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
You can expect a pleasant day, with associates full of good will and congeniality. Day especially favors travel and meeting interesting people.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
You should find hobbies and creative endeavors absorbing and rewarding. And, like Leo, you may meet new people who prove highly stimulating.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Your intuition and unusually good judgment will be a boon in the tight spots now. Give special care to family obligations.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
You may have to make some concessions in a family matter, but the end results will be very worthwhile. Expect some good news in the p.m.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
False statements COULD mislead but, under day's capital influences, you should be able to discriminate well. Just be alert.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
A day for some reevaluation. Dress up an old idea, give an inert interest new life, investigate new avenues to progress. Projects close to your heart can be furthered notably with the right push.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Some situations await your incisiveness and knack for managing people. You may have to do some persuading, but you are good at this.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
You may find it difficult to get things done in the way you prefer. Also, you may run into unexpected snags. Take all in stride and avoid argument. Things will right themselves.

YOU BORN TODAY are a Cancer-Leo couple (one born at the change of Signs) and, as such, are endowed with some of the finest traits of both. Your potentials for happiness and success are so numerous and varied that you should leave no stone unturned to develop your finest and have a truly rewarding life. Fields in which you could make the greatest success: literature, music, science, banking, medicine or the stage.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
What pleases one may not please another. You may have to juggle a bit to avoid contention and hasseling. Some new offers worthy of note, however.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Poise needed. Know what is expected of you and strive in your finest manner. An extraordinary stroke of proficiency at a telling moment could increase your prestige.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Proceed with vigor now and get projects headed in the right direction. Consult with those who can give you a boost.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
This day's accent is on career achievement, improved relations with those in positions of authority. A great day for making room for yourself at the top.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Consider new methods and techniques, but don't reach beyond your capacities — a temptation now. Utilize advantages wisely; keep working toward your highest goals.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with many qualities with which to win first-rate success: a strong individuality, a genius for leadership and unusually fine gifts of organization and salesmanship. Do try to curb a tendency toward overaggressiveness, however, or you could make many enemies as you follow your road to the top. Your versatility and gregariousness are outstanding and, though extremely progressive in your thinking, you have a fondness for the old; would make an excellent dealer in arts and antiques. Other fields in which you could excel: the stage, the law, politics, or in business, as a manager of large enterprises.

Birth control trend eliminating pill use

NEW YORK (AP) - Sterilization of both sexes has become so popular that it now rivals the pill and is the most commonly used method of birth control among couples married 10 years or more, according to a study.

A study of 3,403 married white men and women indicated that about 6.8 million couples had chosen surgical sterilization to prevent unwanted birth, compared to 7.1 million wives using the pill. An additional 1.1 million persons were sterilized for medical reasons.

The survey, conducted in 1975, is the fourth in a series of National Fertility Studies conducted at Princeton University.

The percentage of married couples who use sterilization for birth control almost quadrupled in 10 years, jumping from 8.8 per cent in 1965, to 16 per cent in 1970 and to 31.3 per cent in 1975, the survey said.

The survey indicated that the pill was still predominant among the young and newly married, while sterilization was more prevalent among those married 10 years or more as well as among couples who have had all the children they intend to have.

The use of condoms dropped by half between 1965 and 1975 and the use of diaphragms declined slightly, the survey said.

Intrauterine devices, or IUDs, gained in popularity between 1965 and 1973, but declined in use in the following two years. The researchers suggested that publicity about the hazards of the Dalkon shield (IUD) may have frightened women about IUDs in general.

The survey indicated that female sterilization has been increasing a bit more rapidly than male sterilization, but the percentage of marriages where the male was sterilized was about the same as where the female was sterilized.

The study was conducted by Princeton University professors Charles F. Westoff, who is director of the institutions' Office of Population Research, and by Norman B. Ryder, faculty research associate in the office. It was funded by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development.

Their conclusions were drawn from data gathered in interviews with white women who had been married by age 25. The women had been married only once to men who also had been married only once and for more than five but fewer than 25 years.

The official population of Ohio in 1980 was 3,198,062.—AP

Unemployment rate in Ohio climbing high

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's unemployment rate climbed by .4 per cent from 5.9 to 6.3 per cent, the Bureau of Employment services reported Friday, attributing the jump to students seeking summer jobs and new graduates looking for permanent work.

Meanwhile the bureau reports Ohio workers made more than $4 billion more in 1976 than in the previous year.

The bureau reported that a total of more $42 billion was paid to workers covered by the state unemployment compensation law and that the figure was an 11.1 per cent increase over 1975.

Manufacturing jobs accounted for the largest portion of total wages, adding $18 billion to the economy. The wholesale and retail trades were second with $7.3 billion.

Meanwhile the bureau reported that there were .9 per cent more jobs in the state in June than in May. The June total of jobs was 4,552 million.

The average weekly salary of factory workers broke the record set in May and hit a new high of $286.52 up by $5.50.

The bureau reports that the unemployment figures for June of this year, while up from a month ago, are down by 1.6 per cent from the 7.9 per cent of the labor force that was out of work in June 1976.

Coal miners expected to end strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eastern coal miners should end their wildcat strikes while union leaders try to settle the dispute over cutbacks in medical benefits, leaders of the United Mine Workers say.

During a two-day closed meeting, UMW President Arnold Miller and his executive board supported a program calling for the miners to return to work, an investigation by an outside auditor into how many non-eligible union members were collecting medical benefits and renewed efforts to settle the issue with coal operators.

The meeting was characterized by unusual unity between Miller and the board, according to sources at the meeting.

Trustees of the union's health and retirement funds announced the cutback in medical benefits last month, shortly after Miller's re-election. The announcement precipitated a rash of wildcat strikes.

Coal industry officials estimated 15,000 miners were still away from work Friday in Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Teen babysitter disturbs mother

DEAR ABBY: We are the parents of two boys, ages 6 and 7. A very sweet 14-year-old neighbor girl babysits for us. She's always been very reliable, and the boys adore her.

Several nights ago the 6-year-old told me that the sitter said they could stay up an hour past their bedtime if they took off their clothes and ran through the house naked. He said they refused and went to bed. The 7-year-old confirmed the story and added a few more disturbing details.

I know that kids sometimes make up things, but after I explained the seriousness of their accusations, they assured me they were telling the truth.

It's hard to believe this girl would do something like this, but what do I do now? Should I talk to her mother? She's a nice woman and would probably be shocked and hurt, but she'd want to know if this were true.

Or should I talk to the girl? I can't have her babysit again thinking something might happen to my sons. I don't want to hurt anyone unnecessarily, but children must be protected.

PERPLEXED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Talk to the girl, not in a judgmental or accusatory way, but as a concerned mother who doesn't want her sons involved in further nude games. You could also use this incident to impart some badly needed elementary sex education to a young girl who is naturally curious.

DEAR ABBY: What in your opinion, is the most important ingredient in a successful party?

THE HOSTESS WITH THE MOSTEST
DEAR MOSTEST: People! It's not what you put on the TABLE, it's what you put on the CHAIRS that makes a good party.

DEAR ABBY: I've been living with Larry for 14 months. We get along perfectly except when I bring up the subject of marriage. He says, "Maybe someday, but not now!"

When we decided to live together it was supposed to be a "trial" to see if we got along well enough to get married. I think we've passed the test, but apparently Larry still isn't sure. He doesn't even want to get officially engaged.

I am 19 and he is 25. I was married for two years, and I'm sure we could make a marriage work.

Should I drop the subject, or should Larry give me a date?

WANTS MARRIAGE
DEAR WANTS: If Larry doesn't give you a date, drop the subject AND also Larry.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD R. JOHNSON

St. Colman Catholic Church setting for marriage vows

The joyous union of Miss Tami Lou Mathison and Richard Russell Johnson was celebrated in a double ring ceremony in St. Colman Catholic Church, Saturday June 24, at 7:30 p.m. Tami is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mathison of Washington Court House. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson also of Washington Court House.

The bride wore a floor length gown of light polyester. Her gown was accented by an empire waist cascaded with lace, and featured a scoop neckline covered with delicate sheer net, and bordered with lace. The shoulder length veil was also crowned with matching lace. Representing "something old", the bride carried a lace handkerchief, and wore an antique diamond ring for "something borrowed". A blue garter was worn to represent "something blue". The bridal bouquet was of yellow daisies, and blue babies breath.

Passages expressing Tami and Ric's love were exchanged in front of members of the two families.

Mr. Kevin Reser of Sabina served as best man. The maid of honor was Miss Lori Jean Mathison. She wore a yellow floor length sun dress of sear-sucker trimmed in white and yellow eyelet lace. A yellow sun hat completed her gown and she carried a smaller version of her sister's bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Mathison choose a floor length gown of yellow polyester. Mrs. Johnson mother of the groom wore a light green floor length gown made of polyester.

Both mothers wore corsages of yellow daisies, blue babies breath, and white sweetheart rosebuds.

The setting for the reception was 2170 Dorthea Drive, residence of the bride's parents. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Becky Overly and Miss Theresa Johnson both sisters of the groom. Presiding at the guest book was Miss Kim Conley.

The new Mrs. Johnson is a 1977 graduate of Miami Trace High School. Her husband a 1976 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed at Cor-Tec.

The happy couple spent their honeymoon at Penn Hills Resort in the Pocono Mountains. They will reside in their new home at 1305 Miami Trace Road.

PARTY HONORS TWO — The regular monthly birthday party was held Thursday, honoring two August birthdays: Rosetta Ockerman (right) and Bertha Hopkins (left). Mrs. Ockerman, whose birthday was July 16 and who has been a resident for the past year, was a secretary in her youth and enjoyed playing the piano and whistling as a hobby. Although she no longer plays the piano, she will occasionally begin whistling at the sound of music and adds a beautiful accompaniment with her melodious warbling. Her family is somewhat spread out as she has a sister in Columbus and a brother in Middletown. Her daughter, Evelyn Johnston from S. Charleston, is a regular and welcomed visitor and she recently had the pleasure of seeing her great grandson, Robbie, who had been visiting from Hawaii through the month of June. Mrs. Hopkins, who birthday was July 17 and one of our newer residents, transferred from out of state as her daughter, Ruth Janca, had recently moved to Greenfield. She has two sons, besides Mrs. Janca, nine grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren. Her favorite hobbies were sewing and various handicrafts and she loved to shop and go on picnics. Mrs. Hopkins still enjoys outings with her family and visits them regularly. The two birthday ladies received a personal gift purchased from the recreation fund and enjoyed sharing their birthday cake which was decorated and donated by Janet Payton.

Miss Lyons' wedding gown organza and lace

Father David Petry officiated at the double-ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Densie Elizabeth Lyons and Daniel Michael Mahoney, at 2:30 p.m. July 9, in St. Colman Catholic Church.

Candelabra enhanced with yellow and green ribbon, and altar vases of yellow carnations, white daisies with yellow bows, completed the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lyons of 728 W. Elm St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Mahoney, 724 Yeoman St.

Music was presented by vocalist Connie McGlone, organist Garrell Leasure and guitarist Vic Pontious.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Lyons wore a wedding gown of white silk organza trimmed with Brussels and Venice lace motifs on the empire bodice. The long bishop sleeves were of lace, as was the yoke. The neckline was accented with a cameo collar, and the A-line skirt had scattered motifs with a double lace border at the hemline. Her chapel lengthly train of silk illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, white miniature carnations and white stephanotis with baby's breath.

Lisa Lyons was maid of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Paddy Lisk of Lexington, Ky., Diane Mahoney of Columbus, and Beth Jones of Cardington.

The attendants wore maize jersey gowns with empire waist, spaghetti straps, shirred bodice, with pleated A-line skirt. They were accented with maize chiffon capes, and each wore daisies with baby's breath in her hair. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses with white daisies and baby's breath.

Bart Mahoney was best man for his brother. The groomsmen were Randy Lisk, Gary Lyons and Mike Reier. Seating the wedding guests were Bruce Ream, John Dunn and Earl Crosswhite.

Mrs. Lyons chose for her daughter's wedding a formal length gown of blue chiffon with V-neckline and blue chiffon lace poncho, with which she combined silver accessories. Mrs. Mahoney chose a formal length green and white polyester gown with summer white accessories.

A reception followed at the Washington Country Club. Hostesses were Mrs. Betty Waddle, Mrs. Fred Cluff, Mrs. Russell Miller, Mrs. Charles Wood and Mrs. Charles Keaton. Miss Mary Ann Rudduck presided at the guest book.

The couple is residing at 645 Perdue Plaza, following a wedding trip to Mississippi and North Carolina. The new Mrs. Mahoney, a 1975 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed in the bookkeeping department of BancOhio First National Bank. Her husband, a 1971 graduate of Washington Senior High School, sells real estate for Bart Mahoney Realtors.

Foreign interests control areas of nation's farmland

By DON BEMAN
Associated Press Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Foreign interests own millions of acres of U.S. farmland, but state and federal officials don't think Americans should be too worried.

"I don't see any danger of an invasion yet. But I think it should be monitored," says Iowa Secretary of Agriculture Robert Lounsberry.

"This is an emotional thing now because we're really not talking about a lot of land. But I can see where it might be a problem in the future," he said.

The U.S. Commerce Department, under a 1974 federal law, is surveying foreign ownership and says preliminary reports show 4.9 million acres of land owned by foreigners, who hold leases on an additional 62.8 million.

The U.S. Agriculture Department disputes the figures, but admits it has none of its own.

The USDA also says the current totals are not significant but, like Lounsberry, maintains its concern "is not quantity at this time, but (the) possible implications for future investment policy."

The USDA also said it considers pinning down who owns the land an important task and notes that Iowa is the leader in finding out.

State documents show that $8.3 million worth of Iowa farmland is controlled by foreign interests, with West Germans holding title to $6.4 million worth.

The holdings amount to only 6,823 acres, two-hundredths of 1 per cent of Iowa's 34.2 million acres of farmland.

The alien ownership reports are required by an Iowa law passed in 1975 and were taken from documents on file in the secretary of state's office.

According to the documents, West Germans — mainly two families — hold 5,225 acres in the state. Lesser amounts of land are owned by Canadians, Guatemalans, Italians, Dutch and Swiss.

The value of the alien-controlled land was based on a survey done by Iowa State University which indicated the average value of Iowa farmland is $1,231 per acre.

Grain oversupply to force return of set-aside acreage

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Rebounding too well from the grain shortages of 1973, American farmers have produced so much wheat and corn they will have to return to the set-aside acreage programs, the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee says.

"We have a serious oversupply of wheat and we're about to have the same problem with corn," Rep. Thomas Foley, D-Wash., told more than 400 delegates to the National Corn Growers Association annual meeting Monday.

The Iowa-based association has affiliate organizations in Illinois, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Virginia, and members in all 48 lower states.

The set-aside program would be similar to the one in effect from 1961 to 1972, which evolved out of the land bank policies of the '50s. Farmers who participated were given government payments for diverting field crop acreage to pasture.

Foley said the details have not been worked out but the set aside would be voluntary and reasonable. Anyone refusing to participate, however, would not be eligible for federal loans.

The United States is expected to have a carryover of wheat of about 1.5 billion bushels, twice the annual domestic consumption.

Foley added: "If we have more favorable weather the next month, we are going to have an enormous corn crop — with double the carryover of last year."

Illinois Agriculture Director John R. "Jack" Block said a set-aside on wheat acreage is coming about a year late considering the large surplus. "If a set-aside does come about," he added, "it should result in farmers using more soil-conserving practices. I hope this will help save a little of our soil."

Another speaker, Myron R. Laserson, Continental Grain Co. senior vice president, predicted U.S. corn exports in the 1977-78 crop year will be about 300 million bushels less than last year's 1.65 million. Laserson said increased feed grain production by other exporting countries and a worldwide surplus of wheat caused the export decline.

Darwin Stolte, president of the U.S. Feed Grain Council, called the proposed set aside "hopefully no more than a temporary solution" to grain surpluses to be replaced by increased exports.

"I frankly think we're not ever going to see domestic consumption exceed 5 billion bushels of corn," he added, noting that the projected 1977 corn harvest is 6.33 billion bushels.

The U.S. has "traditionally looked at Japan and western Europe" as its major overseas markets, he noted, but within the past three years new potential markets have arisen: Red China, eastern Europe and the oil-producing nations.

Tom not so terrific last night

Sparky surprised by loss

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It wasn't what Sparky Anderson expected after his Cincinnati Reds went on a come-from-behind scoring binge in the ninth inning and took a one-run lead in the tenth.

"I thought when we fought back from a five-run deficit to tie the score in the ninth that we'd surely win," he said after losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7 in the 12th.

"It was just one of those things," the Reds manager shrugged.

Grant Jackson, 2-3, got the win. John Billingham, 8-6, took the loss.

The Pirates led 6-2 in the top of the ninth, but relievers Kent Tekulve and Terry Forster gave up four runs to send the game into extra innings.

Tekulve, who relieved starter John Candelaria in the eighth, walked lead-off batter Dan Dreissen, and the Cincinnati first baseman took second on an infield out. He scored on a two-out Pete Rose single.

Forster came in to relieve, and promptly walked Ken Griffey. With Rose and Griffey on base, slugger Joe Morgan hit a homer over the right field fence, his 13th.

In the tenth, Dave Concepcion led off with a double to right field and went to third when Pirate Dave Parker misplayed the ball for an error. He scored on a Dreissen single.

"When we went ahead in the tenth, I was sure we would win," Anderson said.

But Parker came back with a one-out single in the Pirate tenth and tied the score when Bill Robinson followed with a triple.

The Pirates were out in the inning when Robinson ran into a double play trying to score after Rennie Stennett flied out to right.

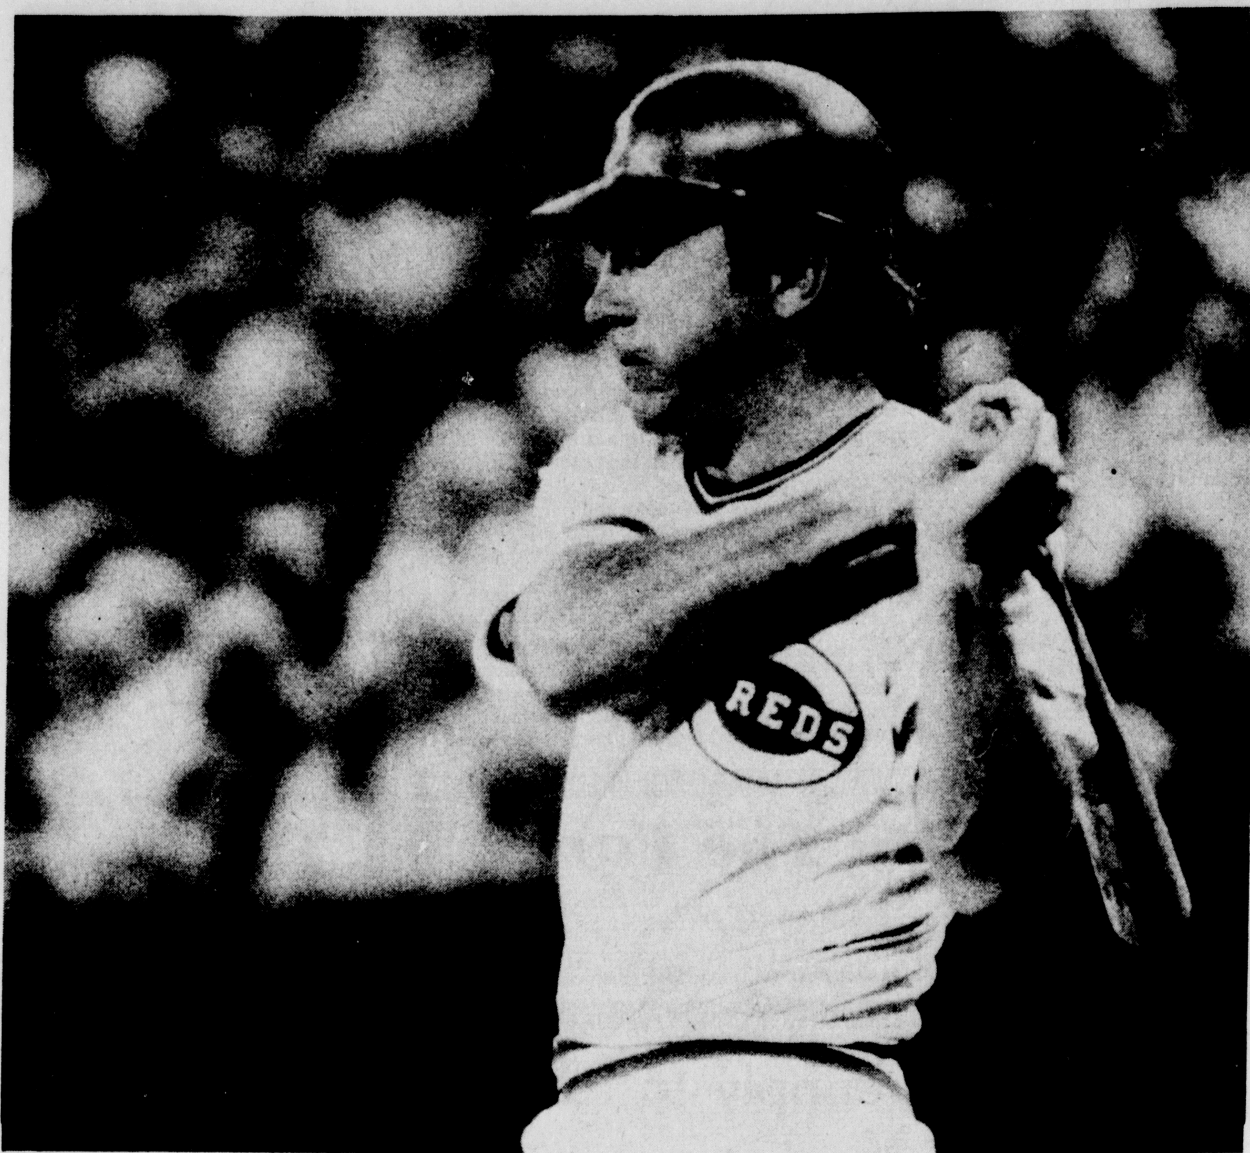

Later, in the Pirate 12th, Parker hit his third double of the night and Robinson, who has been playing with a sore shoulder, followed with a game-winning single.

"That Robinson is something," effused Parker.

"Bill Robinson continues to surprise me," agreed Manager Chuck Tanner. "It's his left shoulder and it doesn't affect his throwing, of course, but it must be painful to swing the bat."

It is, Robinson said. "Sometimes, the way it seems to hurt when I am not at bat, I wonder how I ever get the bat around," he said.

The Reds and Pirates are to wrap up a three-game series today.

KEEP YOUR EYES ON THE BALL? — Johnny Bench loses eye contact with a ball as he swings the bat. He didn't lose bat contact with a ball last night against the Pirates as he hit his 21st home run of the season. Pete Rose and Joe Morgan each homered but the Pirates still beat the Reds, 8-7. The Dodgers also lost, keeping the L.A. lead at 9½ games.

Dodgers lose eighth of last 11

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

In prior years you could count Rick Reuschel's victory total on your fingers and some of your toes.

"He's got a terrific shot at 20 wins," said Cub Manager Herman Franks. "I don't know about 25, but I wouldn't put it past him. Maybe even 30."

Without making much noise, the good right arm of the Cubs has already gained 13 victories, including a 1-0 beauty over the Atlanta Braves Friday. He had never won more than 14 in a season before.

Reuschel allowed but five hits and set up the game's only run with a single, while leading the National League East leaders to their second straight one-run decision over the Braves.

In other National League games, the Montreal Expos edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates tripped the Cincinnati Reds 8-7 in 12 innings; the Houston Astros turned back the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2; the San Francisco Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 and the New York Mets beat the San Diego Padres 5-0.

Expos 2, Dodgers 1

Warren Cromartie and Del Unser belted home runs to back the four-hit pitching of Jackie Brown as Montreal edged Los Angeles for the Expos' fifth straight victory. The loss was the eighth in the last 11 games for the sluggish Dodgers, although they maintained their 9½-game lead over Cincinnati in the National League West.

Pirates 8, Reds 7

Bill Robinson, who had tripled home the tying run in the 10th inning, singled home the game-winner with two out in the 12th to lift Pittsburgh over Cincinnati. Dave Parker had socked his third double of the game in the 12th before Robinson's long single to left center brought him home with the winning run.

Astros 4, Cardinals 2

Bob Watson slammed his third straight hit—a two-run, two-out single in the top of the ninth inning—to lift Houston over St. Louis.

The hit by Watson came off reliever Clay Carroll, 4-2, who earlier bailed reliever Rawly Eastwick out of an eighth-inning jam which saw the Astros tie the game at 2-2.

Giants 6, Phillies 2

Tim Lincecum, making his first start since June 20, knocked in three runs with a pair of homers to power San Francisco over Philadelphia.

Foli, who was sidelined with three cracked ribs, belted a solo homer off loser Steve Carlton, 13-5, in the sixth inning to break a 1-1 tie and added a two-run blast off reliever Ron Reed in the seventh.

Mets 5, Padres 0

Left-hander Jon Matlack scattered seven hits to pitch New York over San Diego. Matlack, improving his record to 51-2 with his fifth complete game of the year, struck out seven and walked two as the Mets won for the seventh time in the last 10 games.

Atkinson's slander suit vindicates Noll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The failure of George Atkinson's $2 million slander suit either vindicated Pittsburgh Steelers Coach Chuck Noll or gave him the right to say anything he wants about anybody he wants, depending on which side you listen to.

A federal court jury determined Friday that Noll and the Steelers could not be held liable for comments in which Noll linked Atkinson, a defensive back for the Oakland Raiders, to a "criminal element" in pro football.

"The vindication of Chuck Noll and the Steelers is a very good thing for football," Steelers attorney James MacInnis said Friday. "It will put a stop to the kind of thing for which he criticized George Atkinson."

The two-man, four-woman jury deliberated four hours at the end of a nine-day U.S. District Court trial before returning a verdict in favor of the defendants.

Atkinson had filed suit seeking a million dollars each from the Steelers and Noll after Noll made the criminal element accusation and charged Atkinson had deliberately tried to maim receiver Lynn Swann.

Contacted at the Steelers' training camp in Latrobe, Pa., Noll's only comment was "we're very happy." Swann said his reaction was one of "complete ecstasy."

The Steelers told newsmen following the verdict they harbored no ill will for Atkinson and did not think the trial would do anything to heighten the tense Steeler-Raider rivalry.

FBI seeking horse thief

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The FBI says it's looking for an itinerant "horse fancier" in connection with the theft last month of a $500,000 mare in foal to Triple Crown winner Secretariat.

The FBI said Wednesday that an arrest warrant has been issued for William Michael McCandless, 30, charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. McCandless' last known address was Nashville, Tenn., said FBI spokesman Allen Whitaker.

The mare, 10-year-old Fanfreluhe, was stolen from Claiborne Farm near Paris, Ky. on June 25. The horse is owned by Jean-Louis Levesque of Canada.

Dr. Walter Kaufman, a veterinarian, has said that Fanfreluhe is "an habitual aborter" and needs a special drug to maintain the pregnancy.

The mare last received the drug June 22 and was scheduled to receive it again three weeks later. Kaufman said that without the drug there is a 90 per cent chance of abortion.

Women's info service questioned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How liberated is the Ohio House? That depends on to whom you talk.

If Gov. James A. Rhodes approves, a recently passed bill would set up a "Women's Information Service" in the Legislative Reference Bureau.

It would be "used to provide informational programs and materials concerning women's legal status, the impact of recent law changes, and the rights and remedies legally available to women," according to an analysis of the bill.

Good enough?

Well, at least one lawmaker, Rep. Waldo Bennett Rose, R-64 Lima, said the whole notion smacked of special treatment to the extent that it demeaned women.

"I guess women are not people," Rose said in floor debate. "I guess they are not thought of as capable of participating in general access to information provided in this state."

Freshman Rep. Edith Mayer, R-22 Cincinnati, hoped to persuade majority Democrats on a House subcommittee to adopt at least one GOP amendment to a public employee collective bargaining bill.

After she and Rep. Harry Turner, R-76 Mount Vernon, had a long series of amendments rejected, Mrs. Mayer offered one which would have changed the name of the proposed State Employees Relations Board (SERB) to Public Employees Relations Board (PERB). She said the bill was for all public workers in Ohio, not just state employees.

However, Chairman J. Leonard Camera, D-53 Lorain, defended the bill's Senate authorship, and the amendment lost. "But 'PERB' does have a nice, ethnic ring to it," said the Lorain County lawmaker of Italian extraction.

OSU trustees approve bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University trustees approved Friday a revised $382 million budget for the 1977-78 fiscal year.

Officials said the package reflects a $2 million reduction in expenditures as a result of deletions made by the legislature from the appropriations bill enacted June 20 and signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes the next day.

In other business, the board decided it would not be feasible for it to make moral judgments as to the appropriateness of policies of firms with which it makes investments from university endowment funds.

The board was responding to questions raised recently by two student groups about investments made in American corporations doing business in South Africa.

A statement adopted by the board said it felt it could not possibly use as a prime investment criterion a corporation's international and domestic trade arrangements and the fairness of the policies of each foreign nation in which it does business.

Sensitivity to Bee Stings

Bee stings, especially to those who are highly sensitive to their venom, present a constant threat. At the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., Dr. John W. Yunginger has demonstrated that people injected with honey bee venom can build up enough antibodies to tolerate severe bee stings.

The honey bee venom is injected slowly, with increasing amounts, during a two-day session. Two or three of such sessions may be needed to completely desensitize a person to this troublesome venom.

It is hoped that enough can be learned so that the information can be translated to wasps, mosquitoes and hornets.

A complicated chemical compound, cisplatin, is being used with more than moderate success in the treatment of some forms of cancer.

This platinum drug, used in combination with other drugs, is sufficiently exciting to warrant further studies. At a number of cancer institutes, such as the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City, and the Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, the platinum drug treatment for carefully chosen cases has been promising.

It is always a source of interest, even to physicians, to learn of the extensive scientific studies that are constantly in progress all over the world. The most minute leads are pursued in the relentless search for the final answer to cancer.

A tiny pellet implanted under the skin holds promise to prevent pregnancy for at least one year.

Dr. Gopi N. Gupta, of the Rockefeller Institute in New York City, has developed the pellets that are filled with female hormones and other chemical substances.

The preliminary studies done on experimental animals have shown evidence of long-term contraception. Soon, trials will begin with humans. No side effects have been reported. A large group of women will take part in the clinical trials in order to insure the safety of these contraceptive pellets.

officials at Fayette County Memorial Hospital to relocate by August 1.

Ralph Pidcock, administrator of the Scioto-Point Valley Mental Health Center in Chillicothe, which operates the local clinic, said the relocation request from hospital officials was based on the hospital's need to utilize space.

"The hospital, however, should be commended for originally giving us space here free of charge," Pidcock said.

Meanwhile, Pidcock and other officials from the Scioto-Point Valley Mental Health Center and its governing body, the Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board, are searching for a building to house the mental health clinic.

Pidcock said eight or nine offices would be needed and the facility should be able to accommodate future expansion.

At its meeting last week, the Fayette County Memorial Hospital board of trustees authorized hospital administrator Robert L. Kunz to study the construction of a larger facility to house the clinic near the hospital.

Kunz was authorized to contact architects and study possible way in which to fund such a project. The preliminary study by Kunz is expected to be completed within six months.

"It is crucial that we get adequately located if we are to receive federal funds for expansion as a comprehensive center," said Pidcock.

He said two planners recently employed by the Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board are presently preparing a program for federal funding for the clinic.

In addition to an expected expansion of the services offered by clinic through possible federal funding, Pidcock said he predicts the staff to double in the near future.

The local center, which began operating on a full-time basis in early July, is staffed by clinic director JoAnne Fessler, a secretary-receptionist, and a registered nurse. Pidcock is presently seeking a second registered nurse.

Dr. Carl Beaver, a Cincinnati psychiatrist, spends six hours per week at the local center.

The caseload at the local center has grown dramatically, according to Pidcock.

The center is now treating between 125 and 130 patients. In the five-county area served by the Scioto-Point Valley Mental Health Center there are 1,200 clients.

Besides the mental health services offered, the clinic employs Eric Jenkins, a drug abuse treatment specialist. Jenkins recently relocated his office from the hospital.

City youth, 11, arrested in local church burglary

In a follow-up investigation Friday of the burglary of the Grace Methodist Church, 301 E. Market St., which occurred Thursday afternoon, Police Specialist Larry E. Walker said an 11-year-old Washington C.H. boy was arrested on a charge of breaking and entering.

The Rev. T. Mark Dove, 135 W. Circle Ave., told investigating police officers the building was securely locked around 4 p.m. Thursday following a 4-H club meeting. When he returned to the building about 8:45 p.m., he stated, he found a locked door in the back leading to an alley was open and the first four offices on the first floor had been ransacked.

The police department report stated the burglar entered through a window in the middle of the building and escaped with a proof set of United States coins and one dollar bill valued at $1.91. The police officers also said the person had played with the electric typewriters and had turned on the electric organ.

Walker said the set of coins was recovered during the investigation and that the youth arrested in the incident is being held pending a hearing in Fayette County Juvenile Court.

Washington C.H. police officers also reported a theft of a citizens band radio and several tools from an automobile sometime late Friday night.

The police department report stated Paul H. Hurles, 50, of 704 S. Main St., left his car parked behind his residence around 11:30 p.m. and returned about 12:30 a.m. Saturday to discover his $75 citizens band radio and a number of tools valued at $150 were missing. The tools consisted of box-end wrenches, open-end wrenches, a socket set and two small tool boxes, according to the report.

Traffic Court

Arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless operation by Washington C.H. police officers, Paul Whitt, 47, of 109 Water St., was found guilty Friday by Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge John P. Case.

Whitt was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in the city jail for driving while intoxicated charge. Judge Case levied another $50 plus costs fine on the man for the reckless operation charge.

Washington C.H. police officers cited Whitt July 15 following a traffic accident in the Sugar Creek Packing Co. parking lot at 2101 Kenskill Ave. Judge Case also suspended Whitt's driver's license for 60 days.

In another case heard Friday, the Municipal Court judge found 31-year-old Kenneth R. Webster of Columbus not guilty of a speeding violation. He was cited on the charge by Ohio Highway Patrol troopers last June 2.

Several waivers were also signed in the Municipal Court on Thursday and Friday.

Tony Orlando calls it quits

BOSTON (AP) — Pop singer Tony Orlando stunned a summer concert audience when he called it quits with show business for the time being.

Frank Lieberman, Orlando's publicity manager, said the popular singer would leave the entertainment circuit after his performance tonight at the South Shore Music Circus in Cohasset, Mass., and would retire immediately if concert contracts for a week in Warwick, R.I., could be canceled.

Lieberman said Orlando told the audience Friday evening: "I have a talent that people have enjoyed for 16 years, and I'm not going to do what my friend Freddie Prinze did. People enjoy having me sing, but the difference now is it will be on a one-to-one basis."

Actor Prinze's death last spring was ruled a suicide.

Before his second show of the evening, Orlando said: "I am retiring to devote more time to my family and the handicapped and mentally retarded."

His partners, cousins Telma Hopkins and Joyce Wilson Brown, known as "Dawn," were described as being "in a state of shock," by the theater's producer, Ron Rawson.
